Aldermen Silent Although Council Has Busy Session

Mayor's Critical Letter, Request for More Police Fail to Stir Board

It could have been the snowstorm that dampened the oratorical qualities of Kingston's aldermen at last night's meeting, presided over by Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwank, but in any event a comparatively busy session of the Common Council in the city hall heard without a display of wrathful opposition.

Mayor William F. Edelmuith's scathing communication on the failure of the council to pass a bond issue for Board of Public Works equipment on account of "purely political selfish interests." The Board of Education's resolution expressing opposition to granting use of the municipal stadium at any time for events conflicting with high school athletic programs, aimed in particular at the application of the Brooklyn Dodgers to promote a Class D Baseball League team at the uptown park.

A resolution from the Board of Police Commissioners requesting enough patrolmen to increase the local force to 50; also an appropriation of $4,500 to purchase new radio equipment.

And, an application from the Art Students League for leasing Kingston Water Department land in Woodstock to conduct a school for approximately 700 students.

Mayor's Letter
"Mr. Ernest Steuding, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, an efficient hard working executive who has accomplished much for the City of Kingston since he has returned to us from the army, where he had an outstanding record as a commander, has requested that you approve a bond issue to give him the necessary machinery and equipment to improve our city. Mr. Harry Edson of the Recreation Department has requested three Quonset huts to be placed in three different sections of the city where school children may play during inclement weather. These requests were made by the Board of Public Works."

"The requests of both of these executives have been denied by the minority members of your body. The work that has been planned by Mr. Steuding for the betterment of the city will be seriously hampered without most of the equipment he has requested."

"Our low record of juvenile delinquency in our fair city could be bettered if we were to have these huts where the children could play, rather than roam the streets. It is impractical to purchase used trucks or surplus equipment, because we have been assured that replacement parts for these pieces of equipment cannot be obtained. Some years past, the city purchased a used truck and after spending considerable money to put this truck in condition, this truck broke a drive shaft and crashed into a private dwelling."

Block Says He Will Prove Gottfried, Forman, Stanton Conspired; E. A. Rose Tells of Signed Statement

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Trial of three individuals and one corporation on two indictments, which were consolidated, charging fraud and conspiracy in sugar rationing, began today in Judge Harry E. Watkins' federal court.

Selection of the jury was completed yesterday. The first indictment charges Harold Gottfried, 43 years old, of 4671 Fieldston Road, the Bronx, and his corporation, the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation, of Ellenville, N. Y., with fraudulently reporting that he had used 1,105,410 pounds of sugar in the manufacture of bottled beverages during 1941, which was the period on which the O.P.A. based allotments of sugar to commercial users.

According to the indictment he actually had used only half that amount. As a result he was charged with obtaining considerably more sugar than he was entitled to.

The second indictment names Gottfried, Joseph Forman, 40, of Kingston, N. Y., former corporation counsel of that city and president of the Ulster County Democratic committee; and William T. Stanton, 46, also of Kingston, a former O.P.A. investigator, on charges of conspiracy.

According to United States Attorney John F. X. McGinley, the three conspired to defraud of Stanton's services as an O.P.A. investigator. The indictment charges that Stanton was sent to investigate possible law violations by the Pure Rock Corporation and that Forman, Gottfried and another person not indicted promised Stanton money if he would report no evidence of any violation. According to the indictment Gottfried gave Forman $1,450, of which Stanton is said to have got $200, and Stanton reported no violations, when the fact was, the indictment charges, Gottfried was getting almost twice the amount of sugar he was entitled to.

These are the first of nine indictments returned about a year ago by a federal grand jury naming the individuals and corporation on trial today and others, including the Hanscom Baking Company and its president, Maurice Gottfried, 36, brother of Harold. Gregory F. Noonan, Gottfried's counsel, said in his opening address to the jury today that his client did not pay him money to the O.P.A. investigator, but rather paid the money to Forman as a legal fee.

Both defense and prosecution completed their opening statements at the morning session. Says He Will Prove Charge
Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick H. Block outlined the charges in the indictment to the jury declaring that the government would prove that Gottfried had made a false declaration of sugar used in the bottling of beverages during 1941.

He said also that he would prove that Gottfried, Forman and Stanton had conspired to prevent Stanton from reporting law violations.

The first prosecution witness was Elida F. Rose, a school teacher of Ellenville, N. Y., who was one of the volunteer registrars in the O.P.A. rationing program. She testified that Gottfried had signed in her presence a statement that the corporation had used more than 1,000,000 pounds of sugar in 1941.

The court recessed for luncheon until 2:15 p. m.

400 Are Expected At Annual Dinner Of Local Group

Fulton Lewis, Jr., Will Give Address; Broadcast Is Part of Program at Armory

A sellout crowd of 400 persons will hear Fulton Lewis Jr., the Mutual Broadcasting Company's noted Washington on news commentator, address the Kingston Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner at the New York State Armory, tonight at 7:15 o'clock.

Mr. Lewis will deliver his regular 7 o'clock broadcast from the studios of WKNY and special arrangements have been made to pipe the broadcast to the armory.

All persons attending the dinner are requested to be in their seats by 7 o'clock in order that the broadcast can be heard with a minimum of interference to those already seated. The dinner is scheduled to get under way as soon as Mr. Lewis arrives after the broadcast.

Publicity Chairman Louis Steketee said that all but four or five of the 400 reservations have been filled and he expected these to be taken up by tonight.

Mr. Lewis, acid-tongued former newspaperman who has made both news and history in his many years of radio reporting and campaigning against government waste and red tape, will speak on "Where Do We Go From Here."

To Answer Questions
Following the address, which is expected to touch on every phase of our national and foreign policy, Mr. Lewis will answer questions from the audience. His speech is expected to last about 45 minutes. Harry Rigby will be the toastmaster. Following the invocation by Rabbi Herbert Bloom, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce, James L. Rowe, will introduce the new president, Harold C. Clayton. Mr. Lewis' address Continued on Page Eleven

Classified Advertisement Brings Sharp Response That King Tries Lockout

Yerry Says Pilgrim Furniture Superintendent's Action Is Lockout to Break Up Union; King Defends Appeal to Veterans in Advertisement

A classified advertisement in Tuesday's Freeman seeking to enlist married veterans interested in learning the upholstery trade at Pilgrim Furniture Company on Teller street, today drew widely divergent opinions from Barney King, plant superintendent, and George E. Yerry, Jr., local labor leader.

Mr. Yerry charged that Pilgrim's action in hiring men to replace several recently laid off in the wake of union negotiations was "a lockout of union men inspired by management's desire to break up the union."

Mr. King countered with the assertion that the new men are being recruited for the upholstery department where training is slow and Pilgrim desires to build up a trained crew that will be able to meet increased demands for furniture in the future.

The labor union leader's contention that Pilgrim has laid off veterans who were training and doing the kind of work he now wants to train other veterans for, was challenged by Mr. King who said:

"Two Training Programs"
"There are two training programs at Pilgrim, one in the sewing department and one in the upholstery section. It requires longer to train a man for upholstery and we have not laid off a single veteran in that department. Rather we are trying to build a corps of trained men to meet needs of the future. We have laid off veterans in the sewing department where the work is not so difficult and can be learned quickly."

Mr. King said the layoffs that followed the union negotiations were not inspired by a desire of management to break the union but were due to lack of orders. He also stated that Donald Moore of the Ulster Veterans Service Bureau would corroborate his statement that four veterans who replied to yesterday's advertisement have been assigned to the training program in the upholstery department.

Yerry's Charge
Although a majority of the Pilgrim employees voted in favor of a union in the elections conducted by the National Labor Relations Board on January 17, the layoff of workers started before negotiations for a union contract could get under way, Mr. Yerry charged.

"It's too much of a coincidence that Pilgrim should be seeking to hire men only a few days after they had laid off a considerable number already in training, including several veterans," he said.

Charge Six Others With Conspiracy

Plattekill and Ardonia Men Are Arraigned in Woodstock Before Martin Comeau

Sheriff Gives Help

Men From Local Office Assist Federal Men, Is Report

The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced eight more arrests, two in Ulster county, in connection with a conspiracy to harbor escaped Italian prisoners of war from Camp Shanks.

Ulster residents involved are Joseph Lanzini, 42, of Plattekill and James Loverso, also known as Vincent Loverso 54, of Ardonia. County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg and Identification Officer Leonard Belmont, both of the Ulster county sheriff's office, participated in the arrests of Lanzini and Loverso with agents of the F.B.I.

The two were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Martin Comeau at Woodstock late last night and were ordered held until $1,000 each. In lieu of bond Lanzini was committed to the Ulster county jail. Loverso was paroled in custody of his attorney and will supply bond today.

Six of the eight arrests were in New York state and two in Chicago, Ill.

Previously on January 15, the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested Giuseppe, Lena and Concetta Terranova, 31 Montrose avenue, Brooklyn, for harboring two escaped war prisoners, Giuseppe Cimino and Pietro Sala.

Eight in F.B.I. Dragnet

Those included in the Federal Bureau of Investigation dragnet today included: Teresa Pugliese, 50, 166 Harmon street, Brooklyn; Mary Del Priore, 51, and daughter, Carmella, 21, both of 575 President street; Joseph Castorina, 20, 19 Stanhope street, Brooklyn; Joseph Lanzini, 42, of Plattekill; James Loverso, also known as Vincenzo Loverso, 54, Ardonia. Arrested in Chicago, Ill., were Henry Gaetano, and his wife, Carmella, 1138 South Albany street.

Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York City office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said that those arrested were believed to be members of the same Italian "underground movement" of which the Terranova family are believed to be leaders. Two indictments were returned by the Federal Grand Jury yesterday charging the Terranovas in both indictments with conspiracy to harbor escaped Italian prisoners of war. Single indictments were returned against each of the eight arrested today.

"The first indictment, according to the F.B.I., charges besides the Terranovas, Teresa Pugliese, Joseph Castorina, James Loverso and Joseph Lanzini with conspiracy to harbor the escaped prisoner of war, Giuseppe Cimino."

Vandenberg said in a statement his job as Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman makes it necessary for him to be on hand for the ratification of Italian and Balkan treaties and Congressional action on international trade and relief.

Sanford Calls Attention to High Accident Figure

Citing the all-time high in industrial accidents in New York state during 1946—718,333—Harold A. Sanford, first aid and accident prevention chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, today stressed the need for first aid and accident prevention instruction.

Reporting instances in which Red Cross instruction has drastically reduced accident tolls in factories, Harold A. Sanford told of a large steel plant in Buffalo where 350 employees were selected to study first aid. Not one man has suffered lost time because of accident since completing the course nearly three years ago.

At LaGuardia Airport, on Long Island, six months after employees completed a similar course, United Airlines reported a drop of 82 per cent in accidents.

Mr. Sanford also pointed out that more than half the accidents resulting in lost time and production are sustained outside the plant, so that it is equally important that people be on guard against hazards in the home, which take approximately 34,000 lives a year.

"The Ulster County Chapter offers without cost to the industries and homes in the area which it serves, courses in first aid and accident prevention designed to eliminate a scourge which ranks fourth as a cause of death and is fatal to nearly 100,000 a year in this country," Mr. Sanford said. "It is to the interest of everyone as an individual and to the national welfare as a whole that each of you enroll with us now and help to cut a rising accident rate that is a threat to all of us."

U. S. Accidents Last Year Took Toll of 100,000; Millions Hurt

Chicago, Feb. 4 (AP)—Accidents in the United States in 1946 killed 100,000 persons, injured millions and caused an estimated economic loss of $5,600,000,000, the National Safety Council said today.

The death toll was four per cent above the 1945 total of 95,918 but the Council said the 100,000 figure "is significant when it is recalled that at the end of the first four months of 1946 the motor vehicle death toll alone was up 45 per cent."

Motor accidents alone accounted for 32,500 deaths. Passenger deaths on the railroads totaled 89 and on regularly scheduled airlines 75.

A man's own home appeared the least safe place of all. In home accidents, 34,000 persons died.

Safer at Work

His place of work seemed somewhat safer. Occupational accidents killed 16,500.

One out of every 13 persons in the country suffered a disabling injury last year.

The biggest single disasters of the year were Atlanta's Winecoff Hotel fire, in which 119 persons died, and the LaSalle Hotel fire at Chicago, in which 61 perished.

Traffic fatalities were up 19 per cent over 1945. Railroad passenger fatalities dropped 26 per cent.

Regarding air accidents, the Council said:

"The passenger death rate per 100,000 passenger-miles in 1946, based on preliminary information, was 1.2—a decrease of 43 per cent from the 1945 rate of 2.1 and equalling the previous low mark in 1939."

What Loss Covers

The $5,600,000,000 estimated economic loss from accidents included wage losses, medical expense, production delays, damage to equipment in occupational accidents and property damage from traffic mishaps and fires.

Although the 100,000 dead was a four per cent increase over 1945, only five years since 1900 showed a lower all-accident death rate than the 7.14 per hundred thousand recorded in 1946, the Council said.

Falls Main Cause

Causes of accidental deaths included falls, 27,800; burns, 18,200; drownings, 7,300; and firearm accidents, 3,100. The high number of firearm accidents, a 24 per cent increase over 1945, was "probably due in part to war souvenirs," the Council commented.

The closing months of the year showed traffic deaths on the decline. During the first four months they averaged 45 per cent higher than the preceding year. Toward the end of 1946 they leveled off at the 1945 rate.

The Council attributed the improvement to "a concerted safety program by public officials and safety organizations" instituted after President Truman's highway safety conference last May.

It kept the traffic death toll 6,500 short of 1941's all time high of 39,965, the Council said.

However, 1946 traffic accidents caused approximately 1,150,000 non-fatal injuries, and resulted in property loss of $750,000,000, the Council estimated.

New Britain, Conn., population 68,700, was the largest city to complete 1946 without a traffic fatality. Irontrunk, Mich., (49,839) was second and Watertown, N. Y., (33,385) third.

CONCRETE PAVEMENT

for Low Annual Cost

The strength and stamina of portland cement concrete pavement enables it to give long years of all-weather service under the heaviest traffic.

For all but the lighter traffic, concrete pavement usually costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.

Although the smooth-riding and all-weather safety of concrete generally attracts the heaviest traffic, records show that annual maintenance costs of concrete pavement are generally lower than for other types of paving.

Low first cost, low maintenance expense and long life mean low annual cost—the reason why concrete is the logical pavement for new principal urban highways and streets.

Ask your city officials to request that concrete, the pavement of long life and low maintenance, be used for state arterial street connections through your city.

Illegal Immigration
There are indications that very soon Congress will blast the lid off the airtight compartment of our government which handles immigration.

For several years there has been a growing swarm of rumors that the Immigration Service has taken the law into its own hands and imported hundreds of thousands of Europe's refugees. These rumors always charge the bureau with having admitted few other than Jews, and of having screened applicants with a strong preference for leftist internationalists.

Another perennial flock of rumors has it that millions of Europe's refugees have crossed our borders illegally. It is a fact admitted not long ago by Attorney General Clark that 2,000 or more aliens are crossing into the United States illegally each day, on the average. Immigration officials refuse to admit that any considerable number of these are permitted to remain here, but the supposition that all of them are rounded up and sent back simply does not make sense.

Rumors are dangerous. They always spring up when a topic over which the public is apprehensive is raised up. There is only one plausible reason why our Immigration Service should have taken this operation underground—that would be to accomplish some activity which will not stand the light of day.

The recent report of Senator Chapman Revercomb, W. Va., on the immigration problem reveals the amazing fact that he himself was not given full information by the bureau, especially on the matter of illegal entries.

Policy Stirrs Race Feeling
However, such facts as were submitted to him are startling enough.

The United States has agreed to accept into our occupied zone in Germany 2,250,000 D.P.s, the vast majority of them not originally in that sector. At the same time the administration in Washington has so manipulated our immigration laws and so circumvented the spirit in which they were set up that we are discriminating in favor of one very small minority group, the Jews. This policy, coupled with discrimination in the D.P. camps, previously has been reported in this column as fanning anti-Semitism in Europe.

As Senator Revercomb pointed out in his report to the Republican steering committee, our immigration laws were established by Congress "to preserve the traditions and political system of the United States by preferable admittance of those who, because of their own characteristics and history, would be more readily assimilated into our national life, customs and view of government."

The quota basis was set up to admit racial groups in proportion to their percentage of population already here. About 70 per cent of these were of British origin, most of the rest from races of northern Europe, only about four per cent Jewish.

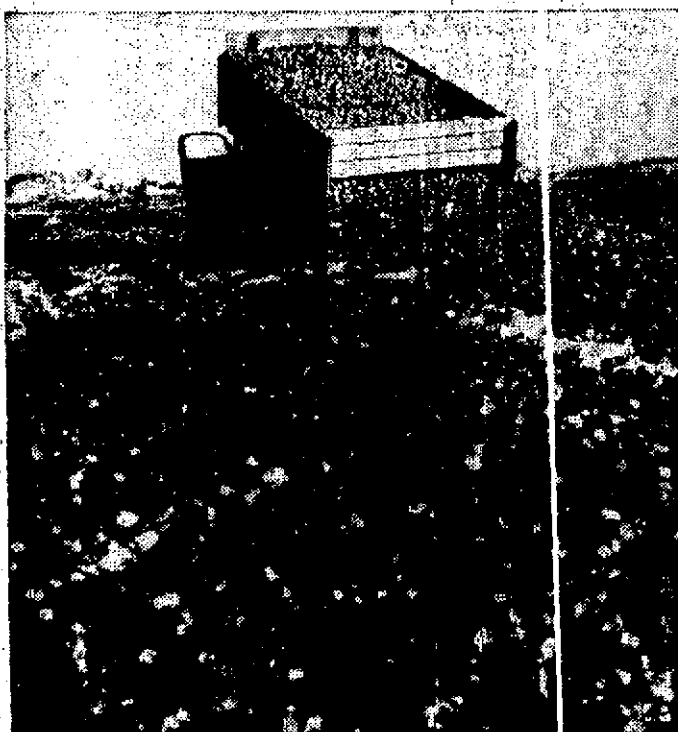

"We cannot ignore the distressing plight of many of these people who suffer as a result of the ravages of war," the Senator said. But he warned on the other hand, "The political aspects of the situation cannot be overlooked."

Many of those who seek entrance into this country have little concept of our form of government. Many of them come from lands where Communism has had its first growth and dominated the political thought and philosophy of the people. Certainly it would be a tragic blunder to bring into our midst those imbued with a Communistic line of thought when one of the most important tasks ahead of this government today is to combat and eradicate Communism from this country.

"The point of whether these displaced persons who are undesirable in their own country, and who for some reason have made themselves undesirable, or who from their own choice are not willing to attempt to get along with their own governments, should be brought into this country to dwell among our people, is worthy of study."

The highly controversial Meader report on the manner in which our Military Government has mishandled displaced persons in Europe, which report the left-wingers tried to suppress, is quoted in detail by Senator Revercomb revealing among other things, the pitiful state of mind and temper into which the refugee Jews have been mauled by various Jewish propagandizing and pressure groups. He illustrated his point by citing the case in which "a train load of Jews had refused to get off the train because the camp was not good enough. When the Army authorities threatened to turn the train around and send them back, they still did not get off. The Army did turn the train around, but instead of taking them back, took them to another camp."

Of 3,000 Jews in one camp, Meader said only 400 were willing to do any work. (Copyright 1947 by John F. Dille Co.)

The Newbern Victory, with 498 troops from Bremerhaven, and the Stevens Victory, with 1,217 from Leghorn, arrived in New York yesterday. The Republic docked at Seattle with 1,009 troops from Korea and Japan.

Rodzinski Resignation Accepted by Directors

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—The next move in the dispute between Artur Rodzinski and the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra appeared today to be up to Rodzinski, whose surprise resignation as musical director was accepted by the orchestra's board of directors. In response to Rodzinski's request that he be relieved of his contract duties, next October, a year ahead of the contract date, the directors date-yesterday announced that "his relations with the orchestra are being terminated effective immediately."

The board's statement also supported Arthur Judson, manager of the orchestra and president of Columbia Concert Artists Corp., whose "direct interference" in the symphony's activities had been given by Rodzinski as the reason for his resignation. Rodzinski would not discuss reports that he might move to the Chicago Symphony.

Truck Caravan Takes Italian Opera Abroad

AP Newsfeatures

Rome—A Fascist innovation which drew no criticism from the sternest Anti-Fascists has been taken over by the new Italian Republic to help restore Italy's tarnished prestige abroad.

It is the Carro Di Tespi Lirico, a caravan of giant trucks which in pre-war days took popular-priced opera, with all the trimmings, to towns and villages lacking opera houses.

With some of the nation's brightest singing stars going along to tread its boards, the elaborate traveling theatre—sole survivor of five which used to cruise Italian highways—was shipped out of Genoa recently for an extended tour of Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

If current negotiations succeed, the west coast of South America, Cuba, Mexico and California may be added to the tour.

Under the baton of Oliviero De Fabritis, with occasional assistance from Nino Stucco and Ottavio Zino, some of Italy's best-loved operas will be presented.

The repertoire includes Tosca, La Traviata, La Boheme, Madame Butterfly, Cavalleria Rusticana, Pagliaccio, the Barber of Seville, Aida and La Gioconda.

The mobile theatre will have virtually everything modern opera houses provide—a demountable stage, dressing rooms, elaborate scenery and props, a generator to light stage and theatre, and thousands of seats for the audience.

Eisler to Testify To Committee on Un-American Acts

Mrs. Eisler Says Husband Will Surprise Group With What He Has to Tell

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities today tossed a cloak of mystery over all but one of its "important witnesses" summoned to testify tomorrow.

Except to say that Gerhard Eisler, arrested yesterday at his New York home, will be on hand for the committee's first public session of 1947, Chairman Thomas (R-N. J.), declined to be specific.

Eisler has been depicted in committee testimony as the Kremlin's top agent in this country.

There are about a dozen important witnesses under subpoena and you better be on hand to see who they are," Thomas told reporters who prodded him for some identification.

Asked whether they included Hollywood celebrities whom the committee has indicted it would question during the year, Thomas said only "they are coming from considerable distances."

Despite Eisler's arrest in New York and his transfer to Ellis Island for possible deportation proceedings, Thomas said he is "confident" that Eisler will be on hand tomorrow.

Asks 24-Hour Watch

He disclosed that the committee on January 31 requested the Justice Department to keep a "twenty-four hour surveillance in order to insure" Eisler's appearance.

Eisler was identified last year by Louis F. Budenz, former Communist editor, as the leader of the Communist movement in the United States. Budenz, renounced Communism to join the Catholic Church and accept an economics professorship at Notre Dame and later at Fordham.

The federal warrant on which Eisler was picked up yesterday charged violation of the Enemy Alien Act.

Eisler had been scheduled to leave for his native Germany on a Russian vessel last October 18, but his exit permit was cancelled without explanation by the State Department.

Promises Surprise

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Gerhard Eisler, whose husband will appear tomorrow in Washington before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said that Chairman Thomas (R-N. J.) "will be very much surprised at what my husband has to tell him."

Eisler was arrested and taken to Ellis Island yesterday after Thomas had asked the F.B.I. to place him under 24-hour surveillance. A former Communist editor, he is described as a "leading Communist leader in this country."

Mrs. Eisler said her husband "has been looking forward to going to Washington" and they had purchased tickets to Washington Monday.

"If my husband wanted to disappear he could have done so long ago," she told reporters.

Mrs. Eisler declined to discuss the testimony Eisler might give the committee.

GRANGE NEWS

Mount Temper Supper

A local turkey supper sponsored by the Mount Temper Grange on Friday evening January 31 was well attended by the public with nearly one hundred people being served. After the supper the many guests enjoyed round and square dancing with music furnished by the Grange Orchestra. One of the highlights of the evening was a vocal duet by the talented Misses Clara and Susan V. Walker of Kingston, accompanied at the piano by Harry Paine of Mt. Pleasant. This was followed by Bill Spunkhake rendering one of his inimitable folk songs. The supper and dance was planned and arranged by a special committee headed by Sylvester W. Walker, chairman, and Mrs. Elsie Walker, Ernest Gardner, William Spunkhake and Miss Ruth Walker and assisted by the Grange Service and Hospitality Committee and Refreshment Committee.

Regular Meeting Held

The regular meeting of Mount Temper Grange was held in the Grange Hall on Monday January 27 at 8 p. m. Wortha Master Norman E. Wilber presided.

Ernest Gardner reported that the financial committee had procured and drawn 1 cord of wood which had been piled in the building.

Baltimore Woman Testifies Part She Played in Forgery

Baltimore, Feb. 5 (AP)—A Baltimore nurse who described herself as a part-time choir singer who gave a truth of her income to the church testified yesterday she played Trilby to a race-track figure's Svengali in forging money that $37,000 worth of checks in her 85-year-old patient's name.

"I've never had any feeling of guilt," Beetha Mae Baker told Judge Joseph Sherbow in criminal court.

She pleaded no contest to charges of forgery and guilty to conspiracy to defraud.

Her co-defendant, Alfred C. Verfaillie, was convicted of conspiracy and receiving stolen goods. Sentences on both were deferred.

"He always wanted money," Miss Baker testified at Verfaillie. She quoted him as telling her, "You better damn right give it to me or you'll find out why."

When Judge Sherbow asked why she gave him money, she replied: "Because he would kill me. He'll kill me now if he gets his hands on me."

The nurse testified Verfaillie had shown her how to forge the signatures of her patient, William J. Sellick, of Greenwich, Conn., by putting tissue paper over his signature and copying it.

She said she sent him as much as $2,000 once to buy a horse called Stormy Bill and that she paid for a $375 watch he gave her as a birthday gift.

Her attorney referred to Verfaillie's "bold over her as a 'Svengali' spell."

Patrol Car Involved In Accident Uptown

A police patrol car operated by Officer Gerald Every was involved in an accident with a 1939 Plymouth convertible coupe operated by George Smalley, of Kramerville, about 10:40 Tuesday morning near the uptown post office.

Officer Every said Radio Car No. 4 was parked in the driveway of 100 Smith's garage, next to the uptown post office facing toward Clinton avenue. When the officer attempted to get out of the car, he opened the right front door which hooked onto the left rear fender of the Smalley machine, proceeding out of the driveway toward Clinton avenue.

The patrol car's right front door was sprung, while the Smalley car's left rear fender was bent.

Wells, Flora; Charlotte Hogner, Jores; Minerva Spunkhake, chairman; Edna Hoyt, lady assistant; Frank Carle, member of executive committee; Ernest Gardner, purchasing agent.

Appointments by the worthy master: Herbert Wells, flag bearer; Frank W. Carle and Ernest Gardner, finance committee; Ella Wells, refreshment committee.

The next regular meeting of the Grange will be in the Grange Hall on Monday, February 10 at 8 p. m.

Russian Writer Says Gotham Is One Frightful Place

Moscow, Feb. 5 (AP)—Yuri Zhukov, writing in Pravda, described New York today as a city where a merchant will do anything to get a customer's dollar and in which the housing shortage could be relieved by the simple expedient of removing rent controls.

Describing Times Square, the Communist organ's writer said: "Here in the center of the city, they sell 'Flax at Atomic' War, the clock around. You can buy a cane at 4 a. m., have breakfast at 8 p. m., and go to a movie at 7 a. m. You just have to have dollars."

"To sell. By all means to sell. By all means you've got to force the purchaser to put his money on the counter or he leaves it with your competitor. For the sake of this a firm will do anything."

Discussing the housing shortage, he said: "The United States has building fever. The hammers are rattling everywhere. Twenty to 30 story houses made of steel are constructed in two or three months."

"But what's amazing is that I did not see in New York a single new house finished, although 750,000 persons do not have living space, according to Gov. Levey. And it is almost impossible to get a place to live."

Says Answer Simple "Why aren't the new houses finished? Very simple. The control of apartment prices has not yet been removed."

Zhukov said the meat shortage of last October was ended quickly when price controls were removed.

"Great applause everywhere next morning," he said, "but at double the price."

The writer described Times Square as a place of "concrete, asphalt and stone with not a tree nor any grass." He said the advertisements "which pitilessly hypnotize a man in letters which dance and change demand you throw all your business away, give your dollars to those who do business here."

"Our hats will make you elegant. Practice your ability to aim and throw the atomic bomb," he quoted the signs as saying.

Then, turning to wages, Zhukov commented: "The savings gathered by a rich part of the population in the years of war, when one could earn well, are greatly spent already. And the wages of the laboring people do not even provide a living minimum. Eighty per cent of the workers of the U.S.A. don't have a living minimum."

"If one thinks deeply about these figures it is not hard to understand that the legend about the inexhaustible purchasing ability of the American consumer on which the businessmen of the United States make their calculations by blowing up prices has dispersed like smoke."

State Fair Commission Recommends Revival
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—The temporary State Fair Commission today recommended revival of the war-interrupted event as a vastly expanded agricultural, industrial and commercial exposition on a new site at the Syracuse Army Air Base.

The 15-member commission said a start on construction this year would be "inadvisable," but urged that the site be acquired and detailed preliminary plans and estimates prepared so "appropriate action can be recommended to the next legislature."

The old fairgrounds at Syracuse, where the fair was held until 1942, was described in a report to Governor Dewey and the legislature as "inadequate in size for an exhibition of the scope required" and offering "very limited expansion" possibilities.

The commission recommended the air base site after considering a suggested location at the New York Ordnance Works at Bldg. 13 miles northwest of Syracuse.

At peak strength in World War 2, America mobilized 13,000,000 men.

About 20 years ago the late Dr. Goodwin, rector of Bruton Parish, interested John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in restoring Williamsburg. Research workers have hunted through archives and museums in this country, England and France to gather data. Some of the buildings restored are Wren Building at William and Mary College; Bruton Parish Church, Capitol, public jail, Raleigh Tavern, House of Royal Governors and public magazine where arms and ammunition were stored. Guides in the buildings are dressed in the colorful costumes of the period.

In introducing the paper on Nantucket Mrs. Murphy described a trip through New England. She then spoke of the five-hour boat ride to Nantucket, an island about 10 miles long. As one approaches the interesting harbor, an old boat "The Skipper" is seen anchored at the dock and arranged as a restaurant, featuring sea food. She also spoke of the small towns, narrow streets and quaint wood-n houses. At one time this island was an important whaling center and Mrs. Murphy gave a history of whaling.

The Valentine party will be omitted because of the weather. The next meeting of the club will be February 25, at the home of Mrs. Clyde E. Wonderly, 49 Emerson street.

Customer Is Right Slogan Is Dusted For Renewed Use

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Commerce Department dusted off a pre-war slogan today: "The customer is always right."

Said a statement by the department's office of small business: "In time customers will forget the shortages and privations they have suffered as a result of the war, but they will not continue to patronize stores whose employees are untrained, unskilled and discourteous."

"Clerks must learn that poor selling methods, laziness, indifference and discourtesy lose trade and reduce profits. Lower profits mean less opportunity for higher wages."

Small retailers who do not "return to prompt, efficient and courteous service" are unlikely to "survive and prosper in the highly competitive period ahead," the statement continued.

A.F.L. Is Opposed To Conscription

Would Be Step Toward Regimentation, They Say in Florida

Miami, Fla., Feb. 5 (AP)—The A.F.L. executive council went on record today as being "unalterably opposed" to military conscription of any kind.

The 15 leaders of the A.F.L. decided unanimously to work against any congressional proposals requiring youths to undergo a period of military training. That would be the first step toward regimentation, the council members said.

The conscription issue came before the council in its survey of what it considers anti-labor bills in Congress. Already it has attacked the measure of Senator Ball (R-Minn.) to outlaw the cloud shop and other union security provisions of labor contracts, and the Ball-Taft-Smith omnibus bill restricting many labor activities.

George Means, A.F.L. secretary-treasurer, reported the Federation, founded in 1881, now has 7,503,448 members, a record the rival C.I.O. claims more than 6,000,000 adherents.

President William Green will testify February 18 on legislation pending in the Senate Labor Committee John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, and David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, will appear later in the month.

Lewis in an off-the-record news conference yesterday talked for more than an hour about the future of the trade union movement and also the world of certain anti-labor bills get enacted by the 80th Congress.

In a way, it was a preview of Lewis' testimony before the Senate committee, scheduled for February 26. For that reason he asked reporters not to quote him. He would not discuss the pending Supreme Court decision involving himself and the miners, however, or what his union proposed to do about getting a new contract.

Car, Truck Collide

Tuesday afternoon a car owned by Raymond John Checker of 117 Herriet street, Yonkers, driven by M. J. Velutis, 23 of 121 Riverside avenue, Yonkers, and a tractor-trailer owned by Marcus Trucking Company of Monroe collided at the junction of Routes 208 and 300 at Wallkill. The accident was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Harry D. Keator. He reported the Checker car was about to make a left turn when the truck following struck the Dodge car operated by Velutis and both vehicles were damaged. The highway was wet at the time and the truck, he reported, had been unable to stop. There were no personal injuries.

A. of A. May Once More Become 6th A

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—That Manhattan street with mouth-filling name "Avenue of the Americas" may become simple Sixth Avenue again.

A bill to change the name back to Sixth Avenue was before the City Council today. Councilman S. Samuel Di Falco who introduced the measure said he would ask for a public hearing.

"There has been a lot of confusion about the new name," he said. "It is unwieldy. Business people and out-of-towners have complained about it. We have had enough time to find out whether the new name would work out to the betterment of the city. It has not."

The street's name was changed to Avenue of the Americas in the fall of 1945.

Seasonal Layoff Hits Local Factory

Layoffs in the cigar industry at this time of the year are not unusual. Heavy Christmas shopping for cigars as gifts results in public stocking of supplies so that demand for the product in January and February invariably is below par, necessitating layoffs in the industry.

Mr. Maspons said there had been no seasonal layoffs during the war because of the tremendous demand by the armed forces and the home front.

The Van Slyke Company will continue to operate at about 50 per cent capacity, until market demands approach normal conditions. Mr. Maspons said. He indicated that some of the department's are not affected by the lay-off.

Mr. Maspons declined to predict when full-scale production could be expected. He said his estimate of "about four weeks" very likely would hold then again the slump might extend for a longer period.

Offer Is Acclaimed

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—An announcement that Thomas W. Lamont of New York City had donated $500,000 toward restoring Canterbury Cathedral was acclaimed by the London Press today as new evidence of British-American friendship. The Daily Telegraph said in an editorial that "no plainer proof of the unbreakable bonds of common heritage that tie the British and American people could be wanted than this magnificent gift." The Times said the American financier's gift was "an act of overflowing generosity for which the English people will be profoundly grateful."

Three Persons Killed When Train Smashes Tank Truck; Explosion Heard 6 Miles

Ten Railroad Cars of Streamliner Are Showered With Flaming Gasoline; Ninety Persons Hurt in Accident Near Fresno; 500 Were Aboard

Fresno, Calif., Feb. 5 (AP)—A crack Southern Pacific passenger train smashed through a tank truck and trailer late yesterday with an explosion heard six miles away, showering 10 railroad cars with flaming gasoline and killing at least three persons.

Ninety passengers were injured, nearly 30 remaining in serious condition today.

A girl, Kathleen of Pasadena, Calif., was reported in a very critical condition suffering from body burns and was not expected to live.

All but 47 of the injured were released after first aid treatment. Amos Alonzo Stagg, 84-year-old dean of America's football coaches, was in a rear car and was unhurt.

The train was the streamlined San Joaquin Daylight enroute from Los Angeles to Oakland. It was sprayed with burning gasoline and turned into a blazing wreck in a matter of seconds. Its gaily-decorated cars jammed with frantic passengers smashing windows and fighting crazily to escape.

None of the streamliner's 14 cars carrying 500 passengers left the tracks. There was a tremendous explosion as the streamliner, racing through the flatlands of the San Joaquin valley, crashed into the tank truck at 3:25 p. m. (P.S.T.) yesterday. For hours afterward railway officials, the Red Cross and other relief agencies struggled to aid the scores of casualties and find out the extent of the disaster.

The dead identified by the railroad as Mrs. Sara E. Badgley of Dunsmuir, Calif., George Schneckenberger of Bakersfield, the engineer and Ernest M. Comer, Bakersfield, fireman. Philip Lee Mayer, 21, of Fresno, the truck driver in some miraculous manner, escaped injury. B. W. Mitchell, Southern Pacific Division superintendent at Fresno, was informed that nine cars burned out completely and one was scorched. In San Francisco, the company said its reports listed two dining cars destroyed, one car badly burned, seven less seriously damaged. Mitchell believed at least 20, and possibly 30 of the injured were seriously burned. Others were hurt smashing windows and in jumping from the cars.

Taken to Hospitals The victims were taken to hospitals at Kingsburg, Selma, Fresno and Tulare, adding to the difficulties of determining the extent of their injuries.

Mayer, the truck driver, told the California highway patrol that he came to a stop prior to crossing the track. He said the freight train was on a siding and the Wig-Wag warning signal was not working. He told officials he was halfway across the right-of-way before he saw the onrushing train.

The fourth and fifth cars of the train were damaged the most by the flames and the number of injured ran the highest there. Another crewman, J. C. Ellis, San Francisco porter, kicked out a window of his car and pulled many of the passengers to safety. Then he re-entered the car and brought out baggage. Passengers praised his heroism.

Another who told of kicking out a window so people could jump out was J. C. Barnes of San Francisco. Screaming in pain and terror.

Cost of Living Asked A spokesman for the Buffalo Teachers Association last night, that they also seek a $500 cost of living bonus this year.

Under a temporary program adopted by the legislature last month, to extend until March 31, 1948 $32,000,000 was voted to localities to grant teachers increases of $300 to $800 a year above salaries they received on June 30, 1945. A temporary $2,000 annual minimum salary was set. Teachers organizations protested that the increases were not adequate. They also scored the temporary nature of the program.

Substantial sentiment for adoption of a permanent, higher pay program for the state's 77,000 teachers has developed among members of the Republican majority in the legislature.

causing considerable serious damage to the property. It was only due to an act of God that no lives were lost or persons injured.

"It is my request that you reconsider your action on the matter of this bond issue, forget personal political interests. Fight me all you so desire, but do not cause the citizens of the City of Kingston to suffer for the want of needed improvements for purely political selfish interests. The failure to continue to improve our city and streets and failure to provide places for children of our city in safety rests entirely on you."

Would Restrict Stadium Use A communication from the Board of Education was accompanied by a resolution passed by the board January 20 which has bearing on the pending controversy over permission for use of the stadium for a Class D Baseball League by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The resolution recited that the stadium had been purchased by the Board of Education and buildings and structures erected at a considerable expense for the use, primarily, by students of the schools for athletic purposes.

It was emphasized that there had been a mutual understanding between the Mayor, Common Council and Board of Education that the stadium would not be used for any purpose, or at any time, in a way that would interfere with the athletic activities conducted by the Board of Education.

The Common Council was asked to adopt a resolution confining the use of the stadium to such activities as would be in accordance with the agreement and understanding heretofore existing.

The resolution was referred to the Building and Supply Committee.

Ask for More Policemen A resolution from the Board of Police Commissioners asked the Council to take action that would permit and increase in the police force so as to provide for one uniformed patrolman for each 600 of the city's population, but not to exceed 50 in all.

The growth of the traffic problem since 1911, when the present provision for one policeman to each 1,000 of population was made, was cited and it was stated that more officers were needed to handle this problem properly, patrol Kingston's 95 miles of streets.

The resolution was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee and to the Common Council.

A second communication from the Police Commissioners asked for an appropriation of $4,500 to purchase new radio transmitters and equipment. It was stated that the present equipment was antiquated and unsafe and its use had far exceeded the normal period of satisfactory service expected of such equipment. Referred in Finance Ways and Means Committee.

Art Students' League Request The Art Students' League of New York, through Attorney Martin Jarvis Sand, asked the Common Council for lease of land at Woodstock, now owned by the Kingston Water Department. This is the land which the Water Board had refused to lease when Mr. Gottfried was owner of the buildings thereon, formerly occupied by the N.Y.A.

Mr. Sand wrote that the league had contracted to purchase the buildings from Mr. Gottfried for $15,000, providing they could obtain a lease from the city. A long-term lease was asked for, but a minimum of five years. It was thought might prove acceptable.

The school plans to open by May 1 and Mr. Sand wrote that they expected to bring to Woodstock between two and three hundred art students. The communication was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee and to the corporation council.

Propose New Building Code The Common Council approved a resolution offered by Alderman Eugene Cornwell and seconded by Alderman James J. Carroll providing that the city engineer be authorized to prepare a building code which would include requirements for safe and adequate means of egress in case of fire or accident. President Schwank named as such committee Alderman Carroll, Cornwell and Simpson.

Communication From St. Ursula's A communication was received from Mother Mary Eleanor, principal of the Academy of St. Ursula, submitting a petition with over 100 signatures, asking for a slight change in the bus route to accommodate the children of St. Ursula's. The service formerly was given and was of much advantage to the children who now were forced to go to the bus accompanied and hampered during bad weather conditions. It was referred to the Railroad and Bus Committee.

Appointments Made Mayor Edelmuth announced two recent appointments. They are: Jacob F. Scharp, 47 Hone street, reappointed a member of the Board of Plumbing Inspectors for a term of three years. Mrs. Lor-

Betts, the Y.W.C.A. was freed from payment of 1947 taxes, amounting to $397.32 on its property at 205 Clinton avenue. This is the former Judge G. D. B. Approve Bus Line Extension The aldermen approved the extension of bus route of Kingston City Transportation Co., providing for service from Pine Grove avenue, to Mary's avenue, to West Chester street, to Montrose avenue, to West Pierpont, to Hone, to Abel street, to Wilbur avenue, to Henry street, to Broadway and thence to the point of beginning.

Asks $1,500 Damages Virgil Kelly of 18 Spruce street, through his attorney, Bernard A. Culliton, asked $1,500 for damages claimed to have been sustained from water alleged to have seeped into his cellar from city sewer main. A broken water car spring repaired and for wreck or service. The neglected condition of Wall street, upon which he was driving at the time, was blamed for the damage.

Both claims were referred to the auditing committee.

Want Zoning Law Changed James and Gladys V. DeCicco petitioned for change of the zoning law so as to place their property at 325 East Chester street into the business district. They desire to convert a garage on the property into an automobile repair shop. The petition, which bore the required number of signatures of property owners in the district, was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

For Full Time Deputy Clerk A communication from Mayor Edelmuth asked that the position of deputy clerk be made a full time permanent position and placed in the competitive class. The Laws and Rules Committee reported favorably upon the proposition and an amendment to the city charter was given its first reading. It provides for creation of the office of deputy city clerk and placing it in the competitive class.

A communication was received from Senator Arthur H. Wicks. It acknowledged receipt of the resolution asking that educational expenditures be exempt from the 2 per cent tax limitation. The senator said that he would introduce a bill and try to have it passed.

Wade's Address Changed William DuBois, who resides at 151 Abel street, yesterday requested the police department to change the address of Lindsey Wade, held for manslaughter second degree for the fatal stabbing of Lee Thomas at 157 Abel street. Mr. DuBois told police that Lindsey Wade lived at 157 Abel street and not 151 Abel as listed in the police records.

4 Po'keepsie Youths Sentenced For Robbery at The Elms Grill

The four Poughkeepsie youths arrested for holding up The Elms at Rosendale, December 12, and who were indicted by the Grand Jury on charges of robbery first degree, and robbery second degree, pleaded guilty to the latter count in county court today.

Sentence on the second degree robbery charge will be imposed Monday, February 10 at 11 a. m. on the four—Stanley Agnew, William Dorsey, Robert and Lawrence Parmelee, all of Poughkeepsie.

Attorney Charles Gaffney of Kingston represented the men against whom the first degree robbery count was not dismissed but is still pending.

At the time of their arrest they were accused of entering the grill and taking a small amount of money from the cash register.

During this morning's session of court, an extra panel of 100 jurors was drawn to be present next Monday at 2 p. m. for the trial of Sergeant James McAlistair, 24, West Point soldier, who was indicted for murder, first degree, in the stabbing to death of Fred Warden, 23, of 191 Prospect street, Newburgh.

Police at the time of the indictment said the stabbing was the result of an "internal triangle" involving Mrs. Florence McAlistair who had become friendly with Warden.

To Sentence Malines

A non-support charge against Everett L. Grant was dismissed on motion of his attorney, Charles Saccomani, when Mrs. Grant requested it.

The William H. Ferguson case, was adjourned until February 6 at 10 a. m. on motion of Joseph Aviz who appeared for defendant. The drawing of the extra panel of jurors was then taken up. Court will meet Thursday at 10 o'clock.

dividuals—as in the cases of the Nazi leaders tried at Nuremberg—as well as to states "are of profound significance," the President said, because:

"We cannot have lasting peace unless a genuine rule of world law is established and enforced." He continued:

"The justifiable hope and confidence to which the great progress of the United Nations in the past year has given rise can be betrayed and lost."

"The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious. They are strewn across the road that leads to the final peace settlements, to the establishment and maintenance of collective security, to the control of atomic energy and regulation and reduction of other arms, to the attainment of economic recovery and an expanding world economy and to the wider realization of human rights."

Mr. Truman reiterated that this country's policy is to support the United Nations with all its resources as a "permanent partnership."

Other Points Are Made

Highlighting some of the problems immediately ahead in addition to those of armament and atomic control, the President made these other points:

"It is not too much to say that the establishment and maintenance of lasting peace will depend in large part upon the ability of the United Nations to carry through to a successful conclusion the work it has begun toward world economic recovery and cooperation."

"I shall recommend to the Congress prompt acceptance of the constitution of the International Refugee Organization and appropriation of our share of the expenses of its program."

"Preparations are now going forward for a world conference on freedom of information before the end of this year."

"The United States will support further steps during the coming year toward strengthening the trusteeship system."

Canizio Asks His Sentence Be Vacated

Frank Canizio, who was sentenced to Auburn Prison, Auburn, in April 1936 on a charge of escape from Wallkill prison, has made an application to county court to vacate that judgment on the grounds he was not represented by counsel.

He filed an application, seeking to be returned to Ulster county and for a review of the action of the court in 1936 when he was sentenced.

Abraham Streifer was assigned to appear for Canizio and the matter was heard in county court today before Judge John M. Cashlin. Judge Cashlin ruled that since it was a matter of law and there appeared to be no question of fact which would require the presence of the prisoner in court, that he would deny the application for appointment of the prior and hold the matter over until February 19 at 10 o'clock when the court record and the minutes of the court would be produced.

Mr. Streifer noted in objection and Judge Cashlin stated that if at the hearing it developed the testimony of the prisoner was required, he would then have the prisoner brought to Ulster county.

will follow the short speech by Mr. Clayton.

A short business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce members is scheduled after Mr. Lewis' question period. The members will discuss changes in the by-laws of the organization dealing with elaboration of the aims and principles of the Chamber, and a change in the method of electing the president.

Guests Comment

Mr. Lewis' appearance in Kingston has created considerable comment since he attracted a large local audience for his night of broadcasts. He is known for his distinction among other radio correspondents of gathering his own news and sparing neither time, effort, nor money to track down a story that he believes should be brought to the attention of his audience, whether radio or lecture.

He was formerly a national affairs reporter for the Washington Bureau of the International News Service for ten years. During which time he wrote the widely syndicated column "Washington Sideshow." He turned his attention to radio in 1937 and has been broadcasting nightly since. New Deal spending, collusion in governmental contracts and leftist movements have been his prime targets.

by the union as a lockout," he continued.

"This advertisement seeking to hire men directly after the company had laid off a major portion of its employees on the grounds they had no orders is definite proof to us that the lay-off was inspired by management's desire to break the union," he said.

Says He Has Proof

Mr. Yerry said he could furnish proof that Pilgrim has laid off veterans who were training a unit doing the kind of work he now wants to train other veterans for.

"If the company takes steps to hire men in place of those already laid off, the union will be forced to take drastic steps to protect its interests." The union leader did not elaborate on the threat.

"Irresponsible acts like these by management are direct causes for strikes and disorders," Yerry stated.

Two Ulster Men Held in P.W. Cases

residence, 31 Montrose avenue, Brooklyn, where he escaped. Second time he went to the home of Teresa Pugliesi, sister of Lena Terranova, at 168 Harman street, Brooklyn. At that time Teresa Pugliesi brought Cimino to Ardona, where he secured employment for him on the farm of Joseph Lanzini, at Ardona. The F.B.I. said, however, that Cimino used the summer home of Teresa Pugliesi with her consent for sleeping purposes while she was in New York. Cimino met, the F.B.I. said, the Terranova in Ardona on several occasions while they were attempting to purchase a farm near there.

The F.B.I. alleges that Lanzini knew Cimino was an escaped prisoner of war and because of his knowledge Lanzini gave Cimino very little salary or food. Cimino then left Lanzini's employ and secured a job with Lanzini's friend, James Lovorso, also at Ardona. When Cimino attempted to leave Lovorso's employ, the F.B.I. said, Lovorso threatened to call in the authorities intimating that he knew of Cimino's escape from Lanzini. Neither Lanzini nor Lovorso notified the authorities of Cimino's whereabouts.

Subsequently Cimino went to New York city, according to the F.B.I., where he immediately contacted Joseph Castorino, ex-G.I., residing at 19 Stanhope street, Brooklyn, with whom he became acquainted at the time he was in New York. When Cimino was detained there as a prisoner of war, F.B.I. men determined that Castorino had warned Cimino that the F.B.I. had been making inquiries which caused Cimino to immediately flee the area.

The second indictment, according to Mr. Scheidt, returned by the Federal Grand Jury yesterday, charged the Terranova, Mary Del Priore and her daughter, Carmella, Henry Gaetano, and his wife, Carmella, of Chicago, Ill., with conspiring to harbor escaped prisoner of war, Pietro Salpa. According to the F.B.I., when Salpa was apprehended leaving the residence of the Terranova, 31 Montrose avenue, Brooklyn, he had in his possession a letter from Henry and Carmella Gaetano in Chicago, whom Salpa described as his uncle and aunt. The letter, the F.B.I. said, was sent after Salpa's escape from Camp Shanks to a drop in Brooklyn, and transmitted to Salpa, offering to assist Salpa "all we can." When Salpa was arrested by F.B.I. agents he admitted that he was leaving at that time to go to his uncle in Chicago.

Worked in Coat Shop

Carmella and Mary Del Priore, the F.B.I. stated, were acquainted with Salpa when he was a prisoner of war at Camp Shanks. When Salpa escaped, it was alleged, Mrs. Del Priore gave him clothing. Carmella, the F.B.I. said, secured employment for Salpa in a coat manufacturing shop in Brooklyn, and worked with Salpa at this establishment. She admitted to the F.B.I. yesterday that she saw Salpa on several occasions knowing him to be an escaped prisoner of war. Mr. Scheidt said that the four arrested in Brooklyn, yesterday were arraigned in the U. S. District Court there.

G.B.S. Finishes Play

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, at 90, has finished a new play but he won't say what it's about other than it's a "typical comedy." Shaw said he completed the script a few days ago and hasn't decided on a title. The play may be presented when the Mervyn Festival, devoted to Shaw's works, is resumed later this year. Although he has given up answering all but urgent correspondence because of his age, Shaw spent two hours a day working on the new play, his first in seven years.

President Asks For Bill to Make Martin Successor

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for legislation which would place Republican Speaker Joe Martin first in line of succession to the presidency.

The President, in a letter to Martin, and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) president pro tempore of the Senate, renewed his appeal for a change in the traditional line of succession.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall currently would advance to the White House if a vacancy should occur prior to the 1948 elections.

Mr. Truman's first proposal that the speaker of the House be put in line after the vice president was made shortly after he succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was directed to a Congress controlled by his own Democratic party and would have made former Speaker Sam Rayburn president in the event of his own incapacitation.

Mr. Truman wrote today:

"I said then, and I repeat now, that in a democracy the president should not have the power to nominate his immediate successor."

Appeals on claims from veterans or their dependents, awaiting disposition by Veterans Administration, decreased in November for the second time since March 1943, when an upward trend began.

Truck Overtakes In Port Ewen Near Cemetery

A slippery road, according to State Police, Corporal Ray Dur and Trooper Dobbs of Highland station, was responsible early this morning for an accident involving two trucks on the hill south of the Port Ewen Cemetery.

Shortly before 7 o'clock a 1946 International truck, owned by Leon Cooper of 308 Slocum avenue, Syracuse, was proceeding south driven by Howard Cooper, Route 1, Phoenix, N. Y., when it became stuck on the hill. A Brockway milk truck headed north, operated by George Honess, 23, of Delhi came over the brow of the hill and when the driver saw the stalled truck he attempted to pass but was unable. His truck ran into the highway after striking the stalled truck and tipped over on the right side of the road. There were no injuries.

Royal Family Enjoys Sun of Ocean Trip

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—King George, Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses sunned themselves in deck chairs today aboard the battleship Vanguard which is taking them to South Africa, exchange telegraph reported.

Strolling occasionally around the quarter deck, the royal family watched the ship's company enjoy deck games and saw a target shooting match between a party of civilians and a navy team. Princess Elizabeth said she would like to do some shooting later.

The ship's cat, "Smooty," celebrated the arrival of warm weather off the Canary Islands by giving birth to two kittens, named "Pip" and "Squeak."

King George kept a souvenir of the remnants of the royal standard which was torn to ribbons by the gale through which the Vanguard passed during the early days of the voyage from Portsmouth, England.

Dog Is Blamed for Death Of Woman by Asphyxiation

Stonham, Mass., Feb. 5 (AP)—A playful fox terrier was blamed today for the asphyxiation death of his mistress, Mrs. Mary M. Pignatelli, 33.

Medical Examiner Ira W. Richardson said that the dog—ironically named "Lucky"—tugged so hard on a rope attached to a gas stove that it entwined and opened two jets. It had been a custom to tie the canine to the stove.

Mrs. Pignatelli's husband, summoned by neighbors who smelled gas, found her dead on the kitchen floor where she collapsed after being partly overcome while dozing in a bedroom.

Al Capone Has Chilly Funeral

Five-Minute Graveside Ceremony Is Held for Scarface

Chicago, Feb. 5 (AP)—Al Capone, who during his gangland days buried friend and enemy alike with all the pomp and ceremony of a Roman holiday, was buried yesterday in a simple, five-minute graveside service.

An icy wind swept across Mt. Olivet Cemetery, tore at the canvas of the huge canopy over the grave and chilled a small group of relatives and friends of the nation's No. 1 gangster.

There were no pall bearers. The workmen who a few hours earlier had dug his grave in the frozen ground, carried the silver-colored casket from the cemetery vault to the grave.

Whereas carloads of flowers accompanied the processions of the gangsters killed when "Scarface" held power, only a blanket of white gardenias, topped with orchids, was placed on his casket, over which was engraved, "Rest in Peace."

There were less than two score persons at the grave, including a few policemen, some curious who braved near zero weather, and several men who were identified as members of the old Capone gang.

Al's mother, Therese; his wife, Mae, his only son, Alfred, and his brothers, Ralph and Matt, stood at the side of the grave during the brief service. Inside the tent a woman sobbed, "Al... I want to be with Al."

Monsignor in Charge

The committal rite was conducted by Msgr. William Gorman, chaplain of the Chicago Fire Department, whose services were requested by Capone's mother. He was her pastor several years ago and the Chicago Catholic Church Chancery granted her request.

No requiem Mass was allowed for Capone, but he was buried in the family plot in consecrated ground alongside the bodies of his brother, Frank, who was slain by police in 1924, and his father, Gabriel.

Msgr. Gorman said the brief ceremony at the grave was "to recognize his (Capone's) penitence and the fact that he died fortified by the sacraments of the church. The (Roman Catholic) Church never condones evil, nor the evil in any man's life."

The casket was placed in the vault last Saturday after the body of the 48-year-old one-time gang leader was brought here from Miami Beach, Fla., where he died on January 25 from pneumonia after suffering an apoplectic stroke.

Four Billions for Farmers

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today farmers will receive about $4,000,000,000 from marketings and government subsidies during the first two months of this year. This amount would be 30 per cent greater than in the corresponding period of 1946. Twenty-five per cent of this increase will be a reflection of higher prices, the department said.
